BIOGRAPHIES

BERNARD SABATH (Author) Mr. Sabath's play The Boys in Autumn starring Burt Lancaster and Kirk Douglas, recently finished a run in San Francisco. The play will soon be taped for cable television and will resume the tour to Broadway. Another play, The Man Who Lost the River, about the last day of Mark Twain's life, begins a run this weekend at Gaslight Theatre, Denver.

STEVEN SUTHERLAND (Director) is a professional actor with 21 years experience of stage, TV, films and radio. Trained at the Old Vic School in his native England, he appeared this past summer as Oberon in A Midsummer Night's Dream at the Alabama Shakespeare Festival. He is currently a visiting Assistant Professor of Drama at UAB. His many credits include taking over the lead from Tom Courtenay in Otherwise Engaged, directed by Harold Pinter on Broadway in 1977, the British National Theatre production of Bedroom Farce (Broadway 1979), The Saint TV series (with Roger Moore) and the movie McGuire Go Home with Dirk Bogarde. Most recently, Mr. Sutherland directed Birmingham Children's Theatre and Theatre UAB's production of A Christmas Carol.

JACK CANNON (Andy) The first recipient of Town and Gown's Fanny Flagg Scholarship, is currently enrolled in his first year at UAB, and majors in theatre.

CHERYL-ANNE MILLSAP (Sheila) UAB's representative to the Southeastern Theatre Conference at Louisville. She was most recently seen as Mrs. Fred in A Christmas Carol. She is a first year theatre major at UAB.
