TITLE IX

TRACK 1 – Title IX Coordinators TRACK 2 – Title IX Decision-Makers and Student Conduct Administrators TRACK 3 – Title IX Investigators

Nothing presented in any module in the

NASPA Title IX Training Certificate is, or should be considered, legal advice!

Know when to consult legal counsel.

Structure of the NASPA Title IX Training

- Why three tracks?
- Why combine Title IX decision-makers and student conduct administrators in the second track?
- Why will Title IX coordinators receive all of the Title IX investigator training?
- Combination of asynchronous pre-recorded videos and live virtual sessions.
- Quizzes, questions and assessment.
- Certificate of completion.

A Few Initial Thoughts on the New Regulations

- First new regulations in a very long time.
- Institutional response requirement—Supportive measures, sanctions, remedies
- Potentially unfamiliar dynamics with the Department of Education—Guidance, commentary, blogs
- Status of preexisting guidance and resolutions
- Expect enforcement if regulations survive legal challenges in court

Some Key Features of the New Regulations 📆

- Title IX redefines sexual harassment and creates special grievance procedures for sexual harassment.
- What does this mean for your existing policies and Title IX compliance more generally?
- Term "hostile environment" disappears/"balancing test" with it.
- Allows for recipients to offer informal resolution (mediation). Can be used in most instances if parties (complainant and respondent) consent voluntarily when a formal complaint is filed.
- Informal resolution cannot be used when a student alleges sexual harassment by an employee
- "Formal complaints" and "allegations"
- · Live hearing with cross-examination by advisors

Some Key Features of the New Regulations ma

- · Choice in evidentiary standard preserved
- "Preponderance of the evidence" or "clear and convincing"
- "Mandated reporters" supplants "responsible employees"
  Changes in jurisdiction and scope of Title IX
- Off campus; study abroad
- · Emphasis on "impartial" processes free from bias and conflicts of interest
- "Supportive measures" supplants "interim measures"
- Separation of the decision-maker from other tasks
  - No more single-investigator model, but single decision-maker permitted.
- Appeals required Training mandates
- "Not a court"/ "Not a criminal justice system"

Training Mandates Specific to the New Regulations 🎢

"Schools must ensure that Title IX personnel [Title IX Coordinator, any investigator, any decision-maker, and any person who facilities an informal resolution (such as mediation)] receive training as follows:

- On Title IX's definition of "sexual harassment"
- On the scope of the school's education program or activity
- On how to conduct an investigation and grievance process
   On how to serve impartially, including by avoiding prejudgment of the facts at issue
- On how to avoid conflicts of interest and bias
- Decision-makers must receive training on any technology to be used at a live hearing, and on issues of relevance of questions and evidence, including when questions and evidence about a complainant's sexual predisposition or prior sexual behavior are not relevant
- Investigators must receive training on issues of relevance to create an investigative report that fairly summarizes relevant evidence"

Posting Training Materials to Your Website

"All materials used to train Title IX personnel:

- Must for rely on sex selectypes,
   Must promote impartial investigations and adjudications of formal complaints of sexual harassment,
- Must be maintained by the school for at least 7 years,
- Must be publicly available on the school's website; if the school does not maintain a website the school must make the training materials available upon request for inspection by members of the public."

"Schools must publish training materials that are up to date and reflect the latest training provided to Title IX personnel."

"If a school's current training materials are copyrighted or otherwise protected as proprietary business information (for example, by an outside consultant), the school still must comply with the Title IX Rule. This may mean that the school has to secure permission from the copyright holder to publish the training materials on the school's website."

Prevalence Data – Postsecondary Institutions Cont'd

More than 50 percent of college sexual assaults occur in August, September, October, or November, and students are at an increased risk during the first few months of their first and second semesters in college; 84 percent of the women who reported sexually coercive experiences experienced the incident during their first four semesters on campus.

Seven out of ten rapes are committed by someone known to the victim; for most women victimized by attempted or completed rape, the perpetrator was a boyfriend, ex-boyfriend, classmate, friend, acquaintance, or coworker.

Prevalence Data – Postsecondary Institutions Cont'd Of college students in fraternity and sorority life, 48.1 percent of females and 23.6 percent of males have experienced nonconsensual sexual contact, compared with 33.1 percent of females and 7.9 percent of males not in fraternity and sorority life. Fifty-eight percent of female academic faculty and staff experienced sexual harassment across all U.S. colleges and universities, and one in ten female graduate students at most major research universities reports being sexually harassed by a faculty member.

Twenty-one to 38 percent of college students experience faculty/staff-perpetrated sexual harassment and 39 to 64.5 percent experience student-perpetrated sexual harassment during their time at their university.

Trauma-Based Approaches

Avoid or Use?

- · Some schools and training entities have moved away from using trauma-informed techniques for fear of appearing victim-leaning.
- Trauma can impact anyone in a grievance process or seeking supportive measures: Use research without stereotypes or gender bias.
- Credibility v. Reliability
- Read DOE's thoughts on trauma carefully...

Trauma

The Department is sensitive to the effects of trauma on sexual harassment victims and appreciates that choosing to make a report, file a formal complaint, communicate with a Title IX Coordinator to arrange supportive measures, or participate in a grievance process are often difficult steps to navigate in the wake of victimization.

Trauma Cont'd "Victim"/"Survivor" or "Perpetrator" Further, the final regulations contain provisions specifically intended to take into account that complainants may be suffering results of trauma; for instance, § When the Department uses the term "victim" (or "survivor") or 106.44(a) has been revised to require that recipients promptly offer supportive "perpetrator" to discuss these final regulations, the Department assumes measures in response to each complainant and inform each complainant of the availability of supportive measures with or without filing a formal complaint. #### Our Mission Has Not Changed...

Enacted by Congress, Title IX seeks to reduce or eliminate barriers to educational opportunity caused by sex discrimination in institutions that receive federal funding.

This is the unchanged mission of Title IX!

Title IX: FINAL RULE

34 CFR Part 106 Nondiscrimination on the Basis of Sex in Education Programs or Activities Receiving Federal Financial Assistance

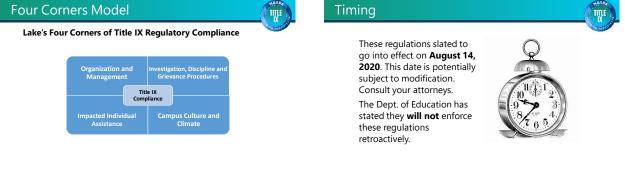

The final regulations obligate recipients to respond promptly and supportively to persons alleged to be victimized by sexual harassment, resolve allegations of sexual harassment promptly and accurately under a predictable, fair grievance process that provides due process protections to alleged victims and alleged perpetrators of sexual harassment, and effectively implement remedies for victims.

The Social Context

COVID-19

- Virtual hearings
- More online learning
  - More Clery/VAWA-type offenses?
- Budget cuts, hiring freezes, furloughs, etc. due to the pandemic

Social Justice Issues

Further training recommended...

- Training specific to your institution's policies.
  - There is not one universal policy for sex discrimination; differences exist in procedures, definitions, etc. from campus to campus.
- Your campus policies may be in transit now.
- Training on technology usage for live hearings on your campus. • Especially important for decision-makers.
- Additional and continued training on bias is always a good idea.
- Continuing education at regular intervals.
- REMEMBER—It's always good to hear from multiple voices!

Why does this module combine these two tracks? Under the new Title IX regulations, Title IX coordinators are permitted to be investigators. It is important Title IX coordinators receive investigator training.

- Title IX coordinators, as a part of their overall oversight function, must understand the investigative process and how it has shifted under the new regulations, irrespective of whether they ever serve as the actual investigator.
- Title IX investigators should have working knowledge of the Title IX grievance system overall and understand their role within the system.

What is Title IX? What is its mission?

- Enacted by Congress, Title IX seeks to reduce or eliminate barriers to educational opportunity caused by sex discrimination in institutions that receive federal funding. This is the mission of Title IX!
- Other federal laws also address sex discrimination. There are complex interactions with other federal laws, such as the Clery Act, the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA), and the Violence Against Women Act (VAWA).
- Title IX is concerned with institutional response to discrimination.

Title IX: FINAL RULE

The final regulations obligate recipients to respond promptly and supportively to persons alleged to be victimized by sexual harassment, resolve allegations of sexual harassment promptly and accurately under a predictable, fair grievance process that provides due process protections to alleged victims and alleged perpetrators of sexual harassment, and effectively implement remedies for victims.

Title IX: FINAL RULE

The final regulations also clarify and modify Title IX regulatory requirements regarding remedies the Department may impose on recipients for Title IX violations, the intersection between Title IX, Constitutional protections, and other laws, the designation by each recipient of a Title IX Coordinator to address sex discrimination including sexual harassment, the dissemination of a recipient's non-discrimination policy and contact information for a Title IX Coordinator, the adoption by recipients of grievance procedures and a grievance process, how a recipient may claim a religious exemption, and prohibition of retaliation for exercise of rights under Title IX.

Operational considerations will be addressed in separate modules.

Is "sex" defined in the new regulations?

The word "sex" is undefined in the Title IX statute. The Department did not propose a definition of "sex" in the NPRM and declines to do so in these final regulations. The focus of these regulations remains prohibited conduct.

"Actual Knowledge"	"Complainant"	TITLE
Actual knowledge means notice of sexual harassment or allegations of sexual harassment to a recipient's Title IX Coordinator or any official of the recipient who has authority to institute corrective measures on behalf of the recipient, or to any employee of an elementary and secondary school. Imputation of knowledge based solely on vicarious liability or constructive notice is insufficient to constitute actual knowledge. This standard is not met when the only official of the recipient with actual knowledge is the respondent. The mere ability or obligation to report sexual harassment or to inform a student about how to report sexual harassment, or having	Complainant means an individual who is alleged to be the victim of conduct that could constitute sexual harassment.
been trained to do so, does not qualify an individual as one who has authority to institute corrective measures on behalf of the recipient. "Notice" as used in this paragraph includes, but is not limited to, a report of sexual harassment to the Title IX Coordinator as described in § 106.8(a).	What is "alleged?"

"Respondent"	TITLE	More on Complainants/Respondents
Respondent means an individual who has been reported to be the perpetrator of conduct that could constitute sexual harassment.		<ul> <li>A person may be a complainant, or a respondent, even where no formal complaint has been filed and no grievance process is pending.</li> <li>References to a complainant, respondent, or other individual with respect to exercise of rights under Title IX should be understood to include situations in which a parent or guardian has the legal right to act on behalf of the individual.</li> </ul>
Allege = "report?"		<ul> <li>[T]he definitions of "complainant" and "respondent" do not restrict either party to being a student or employee, and, therefore, the final regulations do apply to allegations that an employee was sexually harassed by a student. Id. at 30071-72 (internal citations omitted, emphasis added).</li> </ul>

"Formal Complaint"	"Formal Complaint" Cont'd
Formal complaint means a document filed by a complainant or signed by the Title IX Coordinator alleging sexual harassment against a respondent and requesting that the recipient investigate the allegation of sexual harassment. At the time of filing a formal complaint, a complainant must be participating in or attempting to participate in the education program or activity of the recipient with which the formal complaint is filed. A formal complaint may be filed with the Title IX Coordinator in person, by mail, or by electronic mail, by using the contact information required to be listed for the Title IX Coordinator under § 106.8(a), and by any additional method designated by the recipient.	As used in this paragraph, the phrase "document filed by a complainant" means a document or electronic submission (such as by electronic mail or through an online portal provided for this purpose by the recipient) that contains the complainant's physical or digital signature, or otherwise indicates that the complainant is the person filing the formal complaint. Where the Title IX Coordinator signs a formal complaint, the Title IX Coordinator is not a complainant or otherwise a party under this part or under § 106.45, and must comply with the requirements of this part, including § 106.45(b)(1)(iii).

"Sexual Harassment" [Three-Prong Test]

Sexual harassment means conduct on the basis of sex that satisfies one or more of the following:

 An employee of the recipient conditioning the provision of an aid, benefit, or service of the recipient on an individual's participation in unwelcome sexual conduct;

(2) Unwelcome conduct determined by a reasonable person to be so severe, pervasive, and objectively offensive that it effectively denies a person equal access to the recipient's education program or activity; or

(3) "Sexual assoult" as defined in 20 U.S.C. 1092(f)(6)(A)(v), "dating violence" as defined in 34 U.S.C. 12291(a)(10), "domestic violence" as defined in 34 U.S.C. 12291(a)(8), or "stalking" as defined in 34 U.S.C. 12291(a)(30).

(emphasis added)

First Amendment and the Second Prong

[P]rotection of free speech and academic freedom was weakened by the Department's use of wording that differed from the Davis definition of what constitutes actionable sexual harassment under Title IX... these final regulations return to the Davis definition verbatim, while also protecting against even single instances of quid pro quo harassment and Clery/VAWA offenses, which are not entitled to First Amendment protection.

"Dating Violence" (Clery Act Definition)

Dating violence. Violence committed by a person who is or has been in a social relationship of a romantic or intimate nature with the victim. (i) The existence of such a relationship shall be determined based on the reporting party's statement and with consideration of the length of the relationship, the type of relationship, and the frequency of interaction between the persons involved in the relationship. "Supportive Measures"

Supportive measures means non-disciplinary, non-punitive individualized services offered as appropriate, as reasonably available, and without fee or charge to the complainant or the respondent before or after the filing of a formal complaint or where no formal complaint has been filed. Such measures are designed to restore or preserve equal access to the recipient's education program or activity without unreasonably burdening the other party, including measures designed to protect the safety of all parties or the recipient's educational environment, or deter sexual harassment.

"Supportive Measures" Cont'd

Supportive measures may include counseling, extensions of deadlines or other course-related adjustments, modifications of work or class schedules, campus escort services, mutual restrictions on contact between the parties, changes in work or housing locations, leaves of absence, increased security and monitoring of certain areas of the campus, and other similar measures. The recipient must maintain as confidential any supportive measures provided to the complainant or respondent, to the extent that maintaining such confidentiality would not impair the ability of the recipient to provide the supportive measures. The Title IX Coordinator is responsible for coordinating the effective implementation of supportive measures.

§106.44(a) General response to sexual harassment.

A recipient with actual knowledge of sexual harassment in an education program or activity of the recipient against a person in the United States, must respond promptly in a manner that is not deliberately indifferent. A recipient is deliberately indifferent only if its response to sexual harassment is clearly unreasonable in light of the known circumstances. For the purposes of this section, §§ 106.30, and 106.45, "education program or activity" includes locations, events, or circumstances over which the recipient exercised substantial control over both the respondent and the context in which the sexual harassment occurs, and also includes any building owned or controlled by a student organization that is officially recognized by a postsecondary institution.

§106.44(a) Cont'd

A recipient's response must treat complainants and respondents equitably by offering supportive measures as defined in § 106.30 to a complainant, and by following a grievance process that complies with § 106.45 before the imposition of any disciplinary sanctions or other actions that are not supportive measures as defined in § 106.30, against a respondent. The Title IX Coordinator must promptly contact the complainant to discuss the availability of supportive measures as defined in § 106.30, consider the complainant's wishes with respect to supportive measures, inform the complainant of the availability of supportive measures with or without the filing of a formal complaint, and explain to the complainant the process for filing a formal complaint.

§106.44(a) Cont'd

The Department may not deem a recipient to have satisfied the recipient's duty to not be deliberately indifferent under this part based on the recipient's restriction of rights protected under the U.S. Constitution, including the First Amendment, Fifth Amendment, and Fourteenth Amendment.

§106.44(b) Response to a formal complaint.

(1) In response to a formal complaint, a recipient must follow a grievance process that complies with § 106.45. With or without a formal complaint, a recipient must comply with § 106.44(a).

(2) The Assistant Secretary will not deem a recipient's determination regarding responsibility to be evidence of deliberate indifference by the recipient, or otherwise evidence of discrimination under title IX by the recipient, solely because the Assistant Secretary would have reached a different determination based on an independent weighing of the evidence.

§106.44(c) Emergency removal.

Nothing in this part precludes a recipient from removing a respondent from the recipient's education program or activity on an emergency basis, provided that the recipient undertakes an individualized safety and risk analysis, determines that an immediate threat to the physical health or safety of any student or other individual arising from the allegations of sexual harassment justifies removal, and provides the respondent with notice and an opportunity to challenge the decision immediately following the removal. This provision may not be construed to modify any rights under the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act, Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, or the Americans with Disabilities Act.

§106.44(d) Administrative leave.

Nothing in this subpart precludes a recipient from placing a nonstudent employee respondent on administrative leave during the pendency of a grievance process that complies with § 106.45. This provision may not be construed to modify any rights under Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 or the Americans with Disabilities Act.

A recipient's treatment of a complainant or a respondent in response to a formal complaint of sexual harassment may constitute discrimination on the basis of sex under title IX. § 106.45(b) Grievance process.

For the purpose of addressing formal complaints of sexual harassment, a recipient's grievance process must comply with the requirements of this section. Any provisions, rules, or practices other than those required by this section that a recipient adopts as part of its grievance process for handling formal complaints of sexual harassment as defined in § 106.30, must apply equally to both parties.

§ 106.45(b)(1)(i)

 Basic requirements for grievance process. A recipient's grievance process must—

(i) Treat complainants and respondents equitably by providing remedies to a complainant where a determination of responsibility for sexual harassment has been mode against the respondent, and by following a grievance process that complies with this section before the imposition of any disciplinary sanctions or other actions that are not supportive measures as defined in § 106.30, against a respondent. Remedies must be designed to restore or preserve equal access to the recipient's education program or activity. Such remedies may include the same individualized services described in § 106.30 as 'supportive measures'; however, remedies need not be non-disciplinary or non-punitive and need not avoid burdening the respondent;

§ 106.45(b)(1)(ii)

(ii) Require an objective evaluation of all relevant evidence including both inculpatory and exculpatory evidence— and provide that credibility determinations may not be based on a person's status as a complainant, respondent, or witness;

§ 106.45 (b)(1)(iii) Cont'd	§ 106.45(b)(1)(iv)
A recipient must ensure that decision-makers receive training on any technology to be used at a live hearing and on issues of relevance of questions and evidence, including when questions and evidence about the complainant's sexual predisposition or prior sexual behavior are not relevant, as set forth in paragraph (b)(6) of this section.	(iv) Include a presumption that the respondent is not responsible for the alleged conduct until a determination regarding responsibility is made at the conclusion of the grievance process;
A recipient also must ensure that investigators receive training on issues of relevance to create an investigative report that fairly summarizes relevant evidence, as set forth in paragraph (b)(5)(vii) of this section.
Any materials used to train Title IX Coordinators, investigators, decision- makers, and any person who facilitates an informal resolution process, must not rely on sex stereotypes and must promote impartial investigations and adjudications of formal complaints of sexual harassment;	(emphasis added)

§ 106.45(b)(3)(i)

(3) Dismissal of a formal complaint-(i) The recipient must investigate the allegations in a formal complaint. If the conduct alleged in the formal complaint would not constitute sexual harassment as defined in § 106.30 even if proved, did not occur in the recipient's education program or activity, or did not occur against a person in the United States, then the recipient must dismiss the formal complaint with regard to that conduct for purposes of sexual harassment under title IX or this part; such a dismissal does not preclude action under another provision of the recipient's code of conduct.

§ 106.45(b)(3)(ii)

(ii) The recipient may dismiss the formal complaint or any allegations therein, if at any time during the investigation or hearing: A complainant notifies the Title IX Coordinator in writing that the complainant would like to withdraw the formal complaint or any allegations therein; the respondent is no longer enrolled or employed by the recipient; or specific circumstances prevent the recipient from gathering evidence sufficient to reach a determination as to the formal complaint or allegations therein.

(i) For postsecondary institutions, the recipient's grievance process must provide for a live hearing. At the live hearing, the decisionmaker(s) must permit each party's advisor to ask the other party and any witnesses all relevant questions and follow-up questions, including those challenging credibility. Such crossexamination at the live hearing must be conducted directly, orally, and in real time by the party's advisor of choice and never by a party personally, notwithstanding the discretion of the recipient under paragraph (b)(5)(iv) of this section to otherwise restrict the extent to which advisors may participate in the proceedings.

§ 106.45(b)(6)(i) Cont'd

At the request of either party, the recipient must provide for the live hearing to occur with the parties located in separate rooms with technology enabling the decision-maker(s) and parties to simultaneously see and hear the party or the witness answering questions. Only relevant cross-examination and other questions may be asked of a party or witness. Before a complainant, respondent, or witness answers a crossexamination or other question, the decision-maker(s) must first determine whether the question is relevant and explain any decision to exclude a question as not relevant. If a party does not have an advisor present at the live hearing, the recipient must provide without fee or charge to that party, an advisor of the recipient's choice, who may be, but is not required to be, an attorney, to conduct cross-examination on behalf of that party.

§ 106.45(b)(6)(i) Cont'd

Questions and evidence about the complainant's sexual predisposition of prior sexual behavior are not relevant, unless such questions and evidence about the complainant's prior sexual behavior are offered to prove that someone other than the respondent committed the conduct alleged by the complainant, or if the questions and evidence concern specific incidents of the complainant's prior sexual behavior with respect to the respondent and are offered to prove consent. If a party or witness does not submit to cross-examination at the live hearing, the decisionmaker(s) must not rely on any statement of that party or witness in reaching a determination regarding responsibility; provided, however, that the decision-maker(s) cannot draw an inference about the determination regarding responsibility based solely on a party's or witness's absence from the live hearing or refusal to answer crossexamination or other questions.

§ 106.45(b)(6)(i) Cont'd

Live hearings pursuant to this paragraph may be conducted with all parties physically present in the same geographic location or, at the recipient's discretion, any or all parties, witnesses, and other participants may appear at the live hearing virtually, with technology enabling participants simultaneously to see and hear each other. #### (ii,

(ii) For each response required under § 106.44, a recipient must create, and maintain for a period of seven years, records of any actions, including any supportive measures, taken in response to a report or formal complaint of sexual harassment. In each instance, the recipient must document the basis for its conclusion that its response was not deliberately indifferent, and document that it has taken measures designed to restore or preserve equal access to the recipient's education program or activity. If a recipient does not provide a complainant with supportive measures, then the recipient must document the reasons why such a response was not clearly unreasonable in light of the known circumstances. The documentation of certain bases or measures does not limit the recipient in the future from providing additional explanations or detailing additional measures taken.

The recipient must keep confidential the identity of any individual who has made a report or complaint of sex discrimination, including any individual who has made a report or filed a formal complaint of sexual harassment, any complainant, any individual who has been reported to be the perpetrator of sex discrimination, any respondent, and any witness, except as may be permitted by the FERPA statute, 20 U.S.C. 1232g, or FERPA regulations, 34 CFR part 99, or as required by law, or to carry out the purposes of 34 CFR part 106, including the conduct of any investigation, hearing, or judicial proceeding arising thereunder. Complaints alleging retaliation may be filed according to the grievance procedures for sex discrimination required to be adopted under § 106.8(c).

§ 106.71(b)(1)

(b) Specific circumstances.

(1) The exercise of rights protected under the First Amendment does not constitute retaliation prohibited under paragraph (a) of this section.

§ 106.71(b)(2)

(2) Charging an individual with a code of conduct violation for making a materially false statement in bad faith in the course of a grievance proceeding under this part does not constitute retaliation prohibited under paragraph (a) of this section, provided, however, that a determination regarding responsibility, alone, is not sufficient to conclude that any party made a materially false statement in bad faith.

Concurrent Law Enforcement Activity

Section 106.45(b)(1)(v) provides that the recipient's designated reasonably prompt time frame for completion of a grievance process is subject to temporary delay or limited extension for good cause, which may include concurrent law enforcement activity. Section 106 45(b)(6)(i) provides that the decision-maker cannot draw any inference about the responsibility or nonresponsibility of the respondent solely based on a party's failure to appear or answer cross-examination questions at a hearing; this provision applies to situations where, for example, a respondent is concurrently facing criminal charges and chooses not to appear or answer questions to avoid self-incrimination that could be used against the respondent in the criminal proceeding.

Concurrent Law Enforcement Activity Cont'd

Further, subject to the requirements in § 106.45 such as that evidence se to the parties for inspection and review must be directly related to the allegations under investigation, and that a grievance process must provide for objective evaluation of all relevant evidence, inculpatory and exculpatory, nothing in the final regulations precludes a recipient from using evidence obtained from law enforcement in a § 106.45 grievance process. § 106.45(b)(5)(vi) (specifying that the evidence directly related to the allegations may have been gathered by the recipient "from a party or other source" which could include evidence obtained by the recipient from law enforcement) (emphasis added); § 106.45(b)(1)(ii).

Law Enforcement Cannot Be Used to Skirt Title IX Process

[A] recipient cannot discharge its legal obligation to provide education programs or activities free from sex discrimination by referring Title IX sexual harassment allegations to law enforcement (or requiring or advising complainants to do so), because the purpose of law enforcement differs from the purpose of a recipient offering education programs or activities free from sex discrimination. Whether or not particular allegations of Title IX sexual harassment also meet definitions of criminal offenses, the recipient's obligation is to respond supportively to the complainant and provide remedies where appropriate, to ensure that sex discrimination does not deny any person equal access to educational opportunities. Nothing in the final regulations prohibits or discourages a complainant from pursuing criminal charges in addition to a § 106.45 grievance process.

Id. at 30099 n.466 (emphasis added)

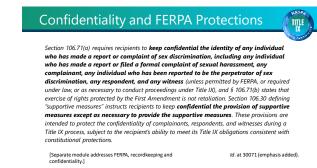

Police Investigations

The 2001 Guidance takes a similar position: "In some instances, a complainant may allege harassing conduct that constitutes both sex discrimination and possible criminal conduct. Police investigations or reports may be useful in terms of fact gathering. However, because legal standards for criminal investigations are different, police investigations or reports may not be determinative of whether harassment occurred under Title IX and do not relieve the school of its duty to respond promptly and effectively."

Let's Look at Some of the Comments in the Regulations

193

The Department desires to prescribe a grievance process adapted for an educational environment rather than a courtroom, and declines to impose a comprehensive, detailed set of evidentiary rules for resolution of contested allegations of sexual harassment under Title IX... the Department has determined that recipients must consider relevant evidence with the following conditions: a complainant's prior sexual behavior is irrelevant (unless questions or evidence about prior sexual behavior meet one of two exceptions, as noted above); information protected by any legally recognized privilege cannot be used; no party's treatment records may be used without that party's voluntary, written consent; and statements not subject to cross-examination in postsecondary institutions cannot be relied on by the decision-maker. The Department notes that where evidence is duplicative of other evidence, a recipient may deem the evidence not relevant.

In order to preserve the benefits of live, back-and-forth questioning and follow-up questioning unique to cross-examination, the Department declines to impose a requirement that questions be submitted for sceneng prior to the hearing (or during the hearing); the final regulations revise this provision to clarify that cross-examination must occur "directly, orally, and in real time" during the live hearing, balanced by the express provision that questions asked of parties and witnesses must be relevant, and before a party or witness answers a cross-examination question the decision-maker must determine relevance (and explain a determination of irrelevance). This provision does not require a decision-maker to give a lengthy or complicated explanation; it is sufficient, for example, for a decision-maker to explain that a question is the dures the question calls for prior sexual behavior information without meeting one of the two exceptions, or because the question asks about a detail that is not probative of any material fact concerning the allegations. The Department believes the protections of the rape shield language remain stronger if decision makers are not given discretion to decide that sexual behavior is admissible where its probative value substantially outweighs the danger of harm to a victim and unfair prejudice to any party. If the Department permitted decision makers to ablance ambiguous factors like "Infair prejudice" to make dissibility decision, the final regulations would convey on expectation that an on-lawyer decision-makers to apply a single admissibility active (relevance), including this provision's specification that sexual behavior is irrelevant with two concrete exceptions. This approach leaves the decisionmaker discretion to assign weight and credibility to evidence, but not to deem evidence inandimissibile or excluded, except on the ground of relevance (and in conformity with other requirements is 16 0.6.4.5, including the provisions discussed above whereby the decisionmaker and strengers of a party or witness if the party or witness dian to submit to conserve animation, a party's treatment records cannot be used without the party's voluntary consent, and informity with other similation devide of the party or witness dian to submit to cross-emination. § 106.45(b)(5)(vi) [emphasizes] that the evidence gathered and sent to the parties for inspection and review is evidence "directly related to the allegations" which must specifically include "inculpatory or exculpatory evidence whether obtained from a party or other source." Such inculpatory or exculpatory evidence (related to the allegations) may, therefore, be gathered by the investigator from, for example, law enforcement where a criminal investigation is occurring concurrently with the recipient's Title IX grievance process.

Unlike court trials where often the trier of fact consists of a jury of laypersons untrained in evidentiary matters, the final regulations require decision-makers to be trained in how to conduct a grievance process and how to serve impartially, and specifically including training in how t determine what questions and evidence are relevant. The fact that decision-makers in a Title IX grievance process must be trained to perform that role means that the same well-trained decis maker will determine the weight or credibility to be given to each piece of evidence, and the training required under § 106.45(b)(1)(iii) allows recipients flexibility to include substantive training about how to assign weight or credibility to certain types or categories of evidence, so long as any such training promotes impartiality and treats complainants and respondents equally. Thus, for example, where a cross-examination question or piece of evidence is relevant, but concerns a party's character or prior bad acts, under the final regulations the decision naker cannot exclude or refuse to consider the relevant evidence, but may proceed to objectively evaluate that relevant evidence by analyzing whether that evidence warrants a high or low level of weight or credibility, so long as the decisionmaker's evaluation treats both parties equally by not, for instance automatically assigning higher weight to exculpatory character evidence than to inculpatory character evidence Id. at 30337 (emphasis added

While the proposed rules do not speak to admissibility of hearsay, prior bad acts, character evidence, polygraph (lie detector) results, standards for authentication of evidence, or similar issues concerning evidence, the final regulations require recipients to gather and evaluate relevant evidence, with the understanding that this includes both inculpatory and exculpatory evidence, and the final regulations deem questions and evidence about a complainant's prior sexual behavior to be irrelevant with two exceptions and preclude use of any information protected by a legally recognized privilege (e.g., attorney-client).

The Department understands that courts of law operate under comprehensive, complex rules of While commenters correctly observe that the Confrontation Clause is evidence under the auspices of judges legally trained to apply those rules of evidence (which often concerned with use of testimonial statements against criminal intersect with other procedural and substantive legal rules, such as rules of procedure, and constitutional rights). Such comprehensive rules of evidence admit hearsay (generally, out-of-court defendants, even if use of a non-testimonial statement poses no statements offered to prove the truth of the matter asserted) under certain conditions, which differ constitutional problem under the Sixth Amendment, the statement in criminal and civil trials. Because Title IX grievance processes are not court proceedings would still need to meet a hearsay exception under applicable rules of comprehensive rules of evidence do not, and need not, apply. Rather, the Department has prescribed procedures designed to achieve a fair, reliable outcome in the context of sexual harassment in an evidence in a criminal court. For reasons discussed above, the education program or activity where the conduct alleged constitutes sex discrimination under Title Department does not wish to impose a complex set of evidentiary rules IX. While judges in courts of law are competent to apply comprehensive, complicated rules of evidence, the Department does not believe that expectation is fair to impose on recipients, whose on recipients, whether patterned after civil or criminal rules. primary function is to provide education, not to resolve disputes between students and employees Id at 30347 Id. at 30347

The Department understands commenters' concerns that a blanket rule against reliance on party and witness statements made by a person who does not submit to cross-examination is a broader exclusionary rule than found in the Federal Rules of Evidence, under which certain hearsay exceptions permit consideration of statements made by persons who do not testify in court and have not been cross-examined. [R]elevance is the sole aatekeeper evidentiary rule in the final regulations, but decision-makers retain discretion regarding the weight or credibility to assign to particular evidence. Further, for the reasons discussed above, while the final regulations do not address "hearsay evidence" as such, § 106.45(b)(6)(i) does preclude a decision-maker from relying on statements of a party or witness who has not submitted to cross-examination at the live hearing.

Credibility Determinations

- · Often these cases are "word against word," so what exists to corroborate claims?
- · Reports to law enforcement, medical assistance, contemporaneous reports or conversations, journal entries, witness accounts, etc. can be viewed as corroborating (if medical or mental health reports exist you can ask the complainant for access to those records).
- · In cases where medical or mental health records exist and panel members gain access, it's a good idea to enlist the help of medical/mental health experts to interpret.
- · Avoid expectations or assumptions about behaviors or responses by either complainant or respondent. Avoid stereotypes; prevent bias, implicit or otherwise.

Credibility Determinations

- Assess demeanor: Does the person appear credible? Look at body language, eye contact, level of nervousness, defensiveness, evasiveness, etc
- · Is the person's account inherently believable? Plausible? What is his or her potential bias?
- · Does the person have a motive to be untruthful?
- Are there past acts that could be relevant (although past acts are not determinative of the issue before you, they can be relevant for some purposes).
- Pay attention to inconsistencies, but remember that in cases of trauma, inconsistencies can occur. Inconsistencies alone may not determine credibility or lack thereof.
- Look out for attempts to derail the hearing, deflect away from questions, and/or bog down the hearing with irrelevant information.
- Check your own bias at the door. Do not pre-judge your findings until all relevant information is heard. Do not be lured towards confirmation bias.

Relevance

The new Title IX regulations "specifically . . . require investigators and decision-makers to be trained on issues of relevance, including how to apply the rape shield provisions."

The decision-maker is required to make relevance determinations regarding cross-examination in real time during the hearing.

Title IX Regulations – Relevance

- Require an "objective evaluation of all relevant evidence" 106.45(b)(1)(ii)
- The Department declines to define certain terms in this provision such as "upon request," "relevant," or "evidence directly related to the allegations," as these terms should be interpreted using their plain and ordinary meaning.

Potential Federal Court Rulings on Evidence

Haidak v. University of Massachusetts-Amherst, 933 F.3d 56 (1st Cir. App. 8/6/2019)

"The rules that govern a common law trial need not govern a university disciplinary proceeding. But the rules of trial may serve as a useful benchmark to guide our analysis." k. at 67.

For example, even in a full-blown federal trial, "extrinsic evidence is not admissible to prove specific instances of a witness's conduct in order to attack or support the witness's character for truthfulness." Fed. R. Evid. 608(b). And extrinsic evidence aside, the court has ample discretion to exclude evidence "if its probative value is substantially outweighed by a danger of ... undue delay, wasting time, or needlessly presenting cumulative evidence." Fed. R. Evid. 403. Because a federal district court would have been well within its discretion in excluding the transcript, it follows a fortiori that an identical decision by the Hearing Board did not violate Haidak's right to due process.

Decisions and Flexibility

The Department has given you some flexibility here. As you draft your policies and procedures, you have a decision to make about how you conduct your investigations. This is largely based on your staffing level and if you intend to have your investigator make any determinations of credibility of evidence and/or parties (Obama era investigations). It is one of the decisions you will need to make as a campus. If you stay the course, and continue to have investigators determine credibility and relevance, very little changes. If you decide they will not do this, investigations change significantly.

Outsourcing Is an Option

The Department notes that nothing in the final regulations precludes a recipient from carrying out its responsibilities under $ 106.45 by outsourcing such responsibilities to professionally trained investigators and adjudicators outside the recipient's own operations. The Department declines to impose a requirement that Title IX Coordinators, investigators, or decision-makers be licensed attorneys (or otherwise to specify) the qualifications or experience needed for a recipient to fill such positions), because leaving recipients as much flexibility as possible to fulfill the obligations that must be performed by such individuals will make it more likely that all recipients reasonably can meet their Title IX responsibilities.

What has happened?

- · A formal complaint has been received (and signed).
- · An initial meeting with the Title IX Coordinator has happened to provide support measures.
- · A notice of investigation has gone out to both parties.
- · The case has been assigned to you (the investigator) or as the Title IX Coordinator, you are the investigator, or you have outsourced the investigation
- · The investigator has read the formal complaint.
- · Which route for investigations has your school opted for?
  - Investigations with or without credibility assessments?

Preparing your questions pre-interview

- Read the Formal Complaint
- · Write out the questions you have about the report on first read
- Read the Formal Complaint again.
  - What additional questions do you have about the incident narrative.
  - · Who is identified in the Formal Complaint you feel you need to interview.
- · What questions do you have for those individuals?
- · Have all of these typed out ahead of the first interview.
- · Revise and update with additional questions and witnesses as you go.

§ 106.45(b)(5)(iv)

(iv) Provide the parties with the same opportunities to have others present during any grievance proceeding, including the opportunity to be accompanied to any related meeting or proceeding by the advisor of their choice, who may be, but is not required to be, an attorney, and not limit the choice or presence of advisor for either the complainant or respondent in any meeting or grievance proceeding; however, the recipient may establish restrictions regarding the extent to which the advisor may participate in the proceedings, as long as the restrictions apply equally to both parties;

Crossover interview techniques

- Title IX investigation framework is good practice for other kinds of investigations:
- Code of Conduct violations
- Threat assessment or BIT concerns investigations
- · Educational conversations with student
- · Academic Integrity case investigations
- Hazing investigations

Remember your role

You are NOT a party's lawyer, advisor, counselor, parent, or friend You ARE an investigator and a facilitator You ARE free from bias You ARE free from prejudgment You ARE interested in finding out fact about the incident You ARE interested in the truth

Being Impartial ≠ Being a Robot You can be a neutral fact-finder and still show empathy and kindness. Investigation spaces should be judgement free zones

Follow-up questions

- When seeking clarification after the party's initial recollection of the event, try to ask questions that build confidence and put them at ease.
- "You said you left the party around 1am, is that correct?"
- "You said you recalled having three cups of 'red solo cup' punch, is that right?"
- If they are describing a location, it might be helpful to ask them to sketch out the room for you (if it is a residence hall, you should have those schematics on your computer to pull up/print out).

Clarifications

- · When asking harder questions about the order of events, or specifics about the conversation or activities, you may run into a series of "I don't know" or "I can't remember" statements. That's ok.
- · Reassure the party its ok that they cannot remember or don't know.
- You can move to another question or kind of questioning.
- · If you hit a memory gap, ask them some sensory questions to see if it triggers any memories. Often there are memories they cannot access unless you ask the question from a different lens.

Sense and Feel questions

- "Can you draw what you experienced?"
- · "What were you feeling when XYZ occurred?"
- "What did you smell?"
- "Can you show me?"
- · "What were you feeling when
- you were kissing?"
- "Tell me more about that."
- "What did you hear?"
- "Tell me about his/her eyes."
- "What can you not forget?"

Credibility: EEOC Guidance

 If there are conflicting versions of relevant events, the employer will have to weigh each party's credibility Credibility assessments can be critical in determining whether the alleged harassment in fact occurred. Factors to consider include:

- Inherent plausibility: Is the testimony believable on its face? Does it make sense?
- Demeanor: Did the person seem to be telling the truth or lying?
  Motive to falsify: Did the person have a reason to lie?
- Corroboration: Is there witness testimony (such as testimony by eye-witnesses, people who saw the person soon after the alleged indents, or people who discussed the incidents with him or her at around the time that they occurred) or physical evidence (such as written documentation) that corroborates the party's testimony?
- Past record: Did the alleged harasser have a history of similar behavior in the past?
   Nons of the sobre factors are determinative as to crobibliny. For example, the fast that there are no eyemissions of the alleged harassment by no means necessary defeats the complanant's credibility, since wirassment of then occurs behind loaded doors. Furthermore, the fast that the alleged harasser engaged in similar behavior in the past does not necessarily mean that he or she did so again.
- Investigative relevance
   "The investigator is obligated to gather evidence directly related to the allegations whether or not the recipient intends to rely on such evidence (for instance, where evidence is directly related to the allegations but the investigator does not believe the evidence to be credible and thus does not intend to rely on it).
   The parties may then inspect and review the evidence directly related to the allegations. The investigator must take into consideration the parties' responses and then determine what evidence is relevant and summarize the evidence in the investigative report"

An Investigative Note about Rape Shield Laws

The final regulations permit exchange of all evidence "directly related to the allegations in a formal complaint" during the investigation, but require the investigator to only summarize "relevant" evidence in the investigative report (which would exclude sexual history information deemed by these final regulations to be "not relevant"), and require the decision-maker to objectively evaluate only "relevant" evidence during the hearing and when reaching the determination regarding responsibility.

Rape Shield Continued

To further reinforce the importance of correct application of the rape shield protections, we have revised § 106.45(b)(6)(i) to explicitly stat that only relevant questions may be asked, and the decision-maker must determine the relevance of each crossexamination questions before a party or witness must answer.

With respect to the claim of bias, we observe that the committee members are entitled to a presumption of honesty and integrity unless actual bias, such as personal animosity, illegal prejudice, or a personal or financial stake in the outcome can be proven. ... #### Outsourcing Is an Option

The Department notes that nothing in the final regulations precludes a recipient from carrying out its responsibilities under § 106.45 by outsourcing such responsibilities to professionally trained investigators and adjudicators outside the recipient's own operations. The Department declines to impose a requirement that Title IX Coordinators, investigators, or decision-makers be licensed attorneys (or otherwise to specify the qualifications or experience needed for a recipient to fill such positions), because leaving recipients as much flexibility as possible to fulfill the obligations that must be performed by such individuals will make it more likely that all recipients reasonably can meet their Title IX responsibilities.

Report Purpose

We agree that the final regulations seek to provide strong, clear procedural protections to complainants and respondents, including apprising both parties of the evidence the investigator has determined to be relevant, in order to adequately prepare for a hearing (if one is required or otherwise provided) and to submit responses about the investigative report for the decision-maker to consider even when I hearing is not required or otherwise provided.

Report purpose and combining continued

- A valuable part of this process is giving parties (and advisors who are providing assistance to the parties) adequate time to review, assess, and respond to the investigative report in order to fairly prepare for the live hearing or submit arguments to a decisionmaker where a hearing is not required or otherwise provided.
- In the context of a grievance process that involves multiple complainants, multiple respondents, or both, a recipient may issue a single investigative report.

Id. at 30309.

Id. at 30053

Findings or Conclusions in Report?

The Department does not wish to prohibit the investigator from including recommended findings or conclusions in the investigative report. However, the decision-maker is under an independent obligation to objectively evaluate relevant evidence, and thus cannot simply defer to recommendations made by the investigator in the investigative report.

Id. at 30308.

No Position

The Department takes no position here on such elements beyond what is required in these final regulations; namely, that the investigative report must fairly summarize relevant evidence. We note that the decision-maker must prepare a written determination regarding responsibility that must contain certain specific elements (for instance, a description of procedural steps taken during an investigation) and so a recipient may wish to instruct the investigator to include such matters in the investigative report, but these final regulations do not prescribe the contents of the investigative report other than specifying its core purpose of summarizing relevant evidence.

Discretion continued

A recipient also may provide both parties with an opportunity to respond to any additional evidence the other party proposes after reviewing the investigative report. If a recipient allows parties to provide additional evidence in response to the investigative report, any such additional evidence will not qualify as new evidence that was reasonably available at the time the determination regarding responsibility was made for purposes of appeal under § 106.45(b)(8)(i)(B).

Credibility Assessment**

D. Credibility Assessment

- According to the Equal Employment Opportunity Commi Unlawful Harassment by Supervisors dated June 18, 1999 ion's Enforcem
- If there are conflicting versions of relevant events, the employer will have to weigh each party's credibility. Credibility assessments can be critical in determining whether the alleged harassment in fact occurred. Factors to consider include
- · Inherent plausibility: Is the testimony believable on its face? Does it make sense?
- · Demeanor: Did the person seem to be telling the truth or lying?
- · Motive to falsify: Did the person have a reason to lie?
- Corroboration: Is there witness testimony (such as testimony by eye-witnesses, people who saw the person soon after the alleged incidents, or people who discussed the incidents with him or her at around the time that they occurred) or physical evidence (such as written documentation) that corroborates the party's testimony?
- Past record: Did the alleged harasser have a history of similar behavior in the past?

Bias, Impartiality, Conflicts of Interest, Sex Stereotypes

Bias/Conflict of Interest

Section 106.45(b)(1)(iii) requires Title IX Coordinators, investigators, decision-makers, and individuals who facilitate any informal resolution process to be free of bias or conflicts of interest for or against complainants or respondents and to be trained on how to serve impartially.

Id. at 30103 (emphasis added).

"Bias" in Ikpeazu v. University of Nebraska 🤇

 With respect to the claim of bias, we observe that the committee members are entitled to a presumption of honesty and integrity unless actual bias, such as personal animosity, illegal prejudice, or a personal or financial stake in the outcome can be proven.... The allegations lkpeazu makes in support of his bias claim are generally insufficient to show the kind of actual bias from which we could conclude that the committee members acted unlawfully.

Title IX Investigator $\leftarrow ightarrow$ Title IX Decision-Maker

The Department emphasizes that the decision-maker must not only be a separate person from any investigator, but the decision-maker is under an obligation to objectively evaluate all relevant evidence both inculpatory and exculpatory, and must therefore independently reach a determination regarding responsibility without giving deference to the investigative report.

Written Notification to Parties BEFORE Any Initial Interview with the Respondent

Notice of the school's grievance process

- · The opportunity, if any, to engage in an informal resolution process
- Key details of the alleged sexual harassment
   Who was involved in the incident
- Date and time of the incident, if known
- Location, if known
- The alleged misconduct that constitutes sexual harassment
- A statement that the respondent is presumed not responsible at the outset of the process and can only be found responsible after the grievance concludes
- A statement that the parties are entitled to an advisor of their choice
- · A statement that the parties can request to inspect and review certain evidence
- Any conduct rules, if they exist, that prohibit providing knowingly false information
- or statements during the grievance process Notice should be provided to allow the respondent enough time to prepare before the initial interview.

Remember the Presumption of Non-Responsibility

A recipient's grievance process must—

Include a presumption that the respondent is not responsible for the alleged conduct until a determination regarding responsibility is made at the conclusion of the grievance process.

Special Issues Highlight #3 Concurrent Law Enforcement Investigation/Police Reports

Concurrent Law Enforcement Activity

Further, subject to the requirements in § 106.45 such as that evidence sent to the parties for inspection and review must be directly related to the allegations under investigation, and that a grievance process must provide for objective evaluation of all relevant evidence, inculpatory and exculpatory, nothing in the final regulations precludes a recipient from using evidence obtained from law enforcement in a § 106.45 grievance process. § 106.45(b)(5)(vi) (specifying that the evidence directly related to the allegations may have been gathered by the recipient "from a party or other source" which could include evidence obtained by the recipient from law enforcement) (emphasis added); § 106.45(b)(1)(i).

Id. at 30099 n.466

Police Investigations

The 2001 Guidance takes a similar position: "In some instances, a complainant may allege harassing conduct that constitutes both sex discrimination and possible criminal conduct. Police investigations or reports may be useful in terms of fact gathering. However, because legal standards for criminal investigations are different, police investigations or reports may not be determinative of whether harassment occurred under Title IX and do not relieve the school of its duty to respond promptly and effectively."

Special Issues Highlight #5 Definition of "Consent"

Consent

[T]he Assistant Secretary will not require recipients to adopt a particular definition of consent with respect to sexual assault. Id. at 30125.

You should be well-versed on the definition of consent contained within your specific campus policies. Address specific issues of consent related to the new definition of sexual harassment.

Consent

The Department believes that the definition of what constitutes consent for purposes of sexual assault within a recipient's educational community is a matter best left to the discretion of recipients, many of whom are under State law requirements to apply particular definitions of consent for purposes of campus sexual misconduct policies.

Elements to Consider

• Elements

- consent is a voluntary agreement to engage in sexual activity;
- someone who is incapacitated cannot consent;
  - (such as due to the use of drugs or alcohol, when a person is asleep or unconscious, or because of an intellectual or other disability that prevents the student from having the capacity to give consent)
- past consent does not imply future consent;
- silence or an absence of resistance does not imply consent;
- consent to engage in sexual activity with one person does not imply consent to engage in sexual activity with another;
- consent can be withdrawn at any time; and
- coercion, force, or threat of either invalidates consent.
- Role, if any, of affirmative consent? REMEMBER: State laws.

§106.44(a) General response to sexual harassment.

A recipient with actual knowledge of sexual harassment in an education program or activity of the recipient against a person in the United States, must respond promptly in a manner that is not deliberately indifferent.... "education program or activity" includes locations, events, or circumstances over which the recipient exercised substantial control over both the respondent and the context in which the sexual harassment occurs, and also includes any building owned or controlled by a student organization that is officially recognized by a postsecondary institution.

What does your campus policy state specifically regarding the scope of "education programs or activities?"

(emphasis added)

Example of "Scope" in a Policy

This policy applies to ABC University students, employees, and third-parties located within the United States both on and off campus, as well as in the digital realm. Off-campus coverage of this policy is limited to incidents that occur on employee-led trips, at internship or service learning sites, and college-owned properties (including buildings operated by Registered Student Organizations), or in any context where the University exercised substantial control over both alleged harassers and the context in which the alleged harassment occurred.

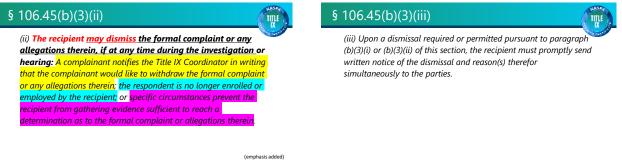

§ 106.45(b)(3)(i)

(3) Dismissal of a formal complaint—
(i) The recipient must investigate the allegations in a formal complaint. If the conduct alleged in the formal complaint would not constitute sexual harassment as defined in § 106.30 even if proved, did not occur in the recipient's education program or activity, or did not occur against a person in the United States, then the recipient must dismiss the formal complaint with regard to that conduct for purposes of sexual harassment under Title IX or this part; such a dismissal does not preclude action under another provision of the recipient's code of conduct.

Whether sexual harassment occurs in a recipient's education program or activity is a fact-specific inquiry. The key questions are whether the recipient exercised substantial control over the respondent and the context in which the incident occurred.

Id. at 30204 (emphasis added)

More on Dismissals

Example: the Title IX Coordinator receives a formal complaint for alleged sexual misconduct that occurred between two students in an off-campus apartment complex where the university had no substantial control over the context or the alleged harasser.

Is this within the scope of the policy example described above? If not, who dismisses? Regulations say the "recipient." Who specifically?

- Remember, a formal complaint must be investigated.
- Will there be a "pre-investigation" inquiry/"fact-specific" inquiry by an investigator to determine?
- What "level" of investigation is required here?
- Will a decision-maker have to make a determination?

Preparing your questions pre-interview

Read the Formal Complaint

- Write out the questions you have about the report on first read.
- Read the Formal Complaint again.
  - What additional questions do you have about the incident narrative.
  - Who is identified in the Formal Complaint you feel you need to interview.
- What questions do you have for those individuals?Have all of these typed out ahead of the first interview.
- Revise and update with additional questions and witnesses as you go.

Crossover interview techniques

- Title IX investigation framework is good practice for other kinds of investigations:
- Code of Conduct violations
- Threat assessment or BIT concerns investigations
- Educational conversations with student
- Academic Integrity case investigations
- Hazing investigations

Special Issues Highlight #10 Fact Finding and Data Collection

How to start an interview

Introduce yourself

- Is small talk appropriate? Build rapport. Establish baseline responses*
- Explain your role
- Explain you will be note/taking/recording the interview for notes
- Ask interviewee to share their recollections of the incident. • Do not interrupt the narrative
  - Let them talk until they are done
  - Follow up questions later

Remember your role

You are NOT a party's lawyer, advisor, counselor, parent, or friend You ARE an investigator and a facilitator You ARE free from bias You ARE free from prejudgment You ARE interested in finding out fact about the incident You ARE interested in the truth

Being Impartial ≠ Being a Robot You can be a neutral fact-finder and still show empathy and kindness. Investigation spaces should be judgement free zones

Follow-up questions • When seeking clarification after the party's initial recollection of the

- When seeking clarification after the party's initial recollection of the event, try to ask questions that build confidence and put them at ease.
- "You said you left the party around 1am, is that correct?"
- "You said you recalled having three cups of 'red solo cup' punch, is that right?"
- If they are describing a location, it might be helpful to ask them to sketch out the room for you (if it is a residence hall, you should have those schematics on your computer to pull up/print out).

Clarifications

- When asking harder questions about the order of events, or specifics about the conversation or activities, you may run into a series of "I don't know" or "I can't remember" statements. That's ok.
- · Reassure the party its ok that they cannot remember or don't know.
- · You can move to another question or kind of questioning.
- If you hit a memory gap, ask them some sensory questions to see if it triggers any memories. Often there are memories they cannot access unless you ask the question from a different lens.

Sense and Feel questions

- "Can you draw what you experienced?"
- "What were you feeling when XYZ occurred?"
- "What did you smell?"
- "Can you show me?"
- "What were you feeling when you were kissing?"
- "Tell me more about that."
- "What did you hear?"
- "Tell me about his/her eyes."
- "What can you not forget?"

A word about trauma

- · Anyone you speak with about alleged sexual harassment (complainant, respondent, or witnesses) could have experienced or still be experiencing trauma as a result of the alleged situation.
- · Be cognizant that talking to you may be very difficult for the parties. · Remember to document their experience with as little interruption as - possible. Follow-up questions should be limited. · Ideally, you want the party being interviewed to do most of the
- speaking. ference, 2018

Scenario #1

In response to the new Title IX regulations, ABC University is moving from a single-investigator model to a hearing panel model. The Title IX coordinator has called a zoom meeting with all Title IX personnel to discuss making changes to the institution's policies and procedures. The Title IX coordinator begins to discuss the role of the investigators under the new grievance procedures and suggests that the investigator's role will be changing in some significant ways and some decisions must be made as to the role of the investigators.

Scenario #1—Questions

- · What significant changes to the investigative function, if any, should be considered?
- · Should the investigator address credibility of parties and witnesses in the final investigative report? Why or why not?
- · Should the investigator make recommendations on findings of responsibility in the final investigative report? Why or why not?
- · Should the investigator make recommendations as to the sanctions/remedies that should be imposed? Why or why not?
- Should the Title IX coordinator have any input in the investigation process and/or report writing? Why or why not?

The Minimum and Maximum Role of the Investigator Cont'd

- · Gather all relevant information regarding an allegation of sexual harassment.
- · Interview all relevant parties
- · Collect and organize relevant evidence
- Credibility Assessments?
- Weighing Evidence?
- Write a detailed investigative report
- · Make recommendations for interim measures or accommodations?
- Findings of Responsibility?

Remember § 106.45(b)(1)(x)

A recipient's grievance process must-

Not require, allow, rely upon, or otherwise use questions or evidence that constitute, or seek disclosure of, information protected under a legally recognized privilege, unless the person holding such privilege has waived the privilege.

Scenario #2

You are an investigator for ABC University investigating an allegation of nonconsensual sexual contact between Complainant and Respondent, two Freshmen students at ABC. Complainant alleges Complainant was intoxicated and unable to give consent at the time the sexual contact occurred. Complainant submits as evidence a letter from a high school that Respondent and Complainant both attended. The letter from the high school shows a finding of responsibility against Respondent for sending nude photos of Complainant while Complainant was passed out at a party via text message to a friend. Complainant also submits a letter from a juvenile court showing a judgement against Respondent for the "sexting" act and penalties imposed on Respondent including a fine, mandatory counseling and community service.

385

Scenario #2—Questions

- Should this evidence be included in the "universe of evidence" given to both parties and their advisors for their response prior to the finalization of the final investigative report?
- Is this relevant evidence that should be included in the final report? Why or why not? How would you determine this?

§ 106.45(b)(5)(vi) Cont'd

Prior to completion of the investigative report, the recipient must send to each party and the party's advisor, if any, the evidence subject to inspection and review in an electronic format or a hard copy, and the parties must have at least 10 days to submit a written response, which the investigator will consider prior to completion of the investigative report. The recipient must make all such evidence subject to the parties' inspection and review available at any hearing to give each party equal opportunity to refer to such evidence during the hearing, including for purposes of cross-examination; and

(emphasis added)

§ 106.45(b)(5)(vii)

(vii) Create an investigative report that fairly summarizes relevant evidence and, at least 10 days prior to a hearing (if a hearing is required under this section or otherwise provided) or other time of determination regarding responsibility, send to each party and the party's advisor, if any, the investigative report in an electronic format or a hard copy, for their review and written response.

"Universe of Evidence"

[T]he universe of evidence given to the parties for inspection and review under § 106.45(b)(5)(vi) must consist of all evidence directly related to the allegations; determinations as to whether evidence is "relevant" are made when finalizing the investigative report, pursuant to § 106.45(b)(5)(vii) (requiring creation of an investigative report that "fairly summarizes all relevant evidence").

Is this essentially a "mini notice-and-comment" process?

391

Submission of Evidence and Sharing of Responses

A recipient may require all parties to submit any evidence that they would like the investigator to consider prior to when the parties' time to inspect and review evidence begins. Alternatively, a recipient may choose to allow both parties to provide additional evidence in response to their inspection and review of the evidence under § 106.45(b)(5)(vi) and also an opportunity to respond to the other party's additional evidence. Similarly, a recipient has discretion to choose whether to provide a copy of each party's written response to the other party to ensure a fair and transparent process and to allow the parties to adequately prepare for any hearing that is required or provided under the grievance process. Not Allowing Parties to Respond to Additional Evidence

If a recipient chooses not to allow the parties to respond to additional evidence provided by a party in these circumstances, the parties will still receive the investigative report that fairly summarizes relevant evidence under § 106.45(b)(5)(vii) and will receive an opportunity to inspect and review all relevant evidence at any hearing and to refer to such evidence during the hearing, including for purposes of cross-examination at live hearings under § 106.45(b)(5)(vi).

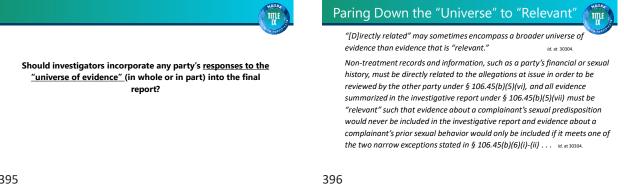

If a recipient allows parties to provide additional evidence after reviewing the evidence under § 106.45(b)(5)(vi), any such additional evidence that is summarized in the investigative report will not qualify as new evidence that was reasonably available at the time the determination regarding responsibility was made for purposes of an appeal under § 106.45(b)(8).

Relevance

[R]elevance is the sole gatekeeper evidentiary rule in the final regulations, but decision-makers retain discretion regarding the weight or credibility to assign to particular evidence. Further, for the reasons discussed above, while the final regulations do not address "hearsay evidence" as such, § 106.45(b)(6)(i) does preclude a decision-maker from relying on statements of a party or witness who has not submitted to cross-examination at the live hearing.

Possible Format for the Final Investigative Report

Scenario #3

You, a Title IX investigator, are conducting an interview with a party in a Title IX grievance process. This party is a faculty member who is accompanied to the interview by a union representative and a personal attorney. You find it very difficult to interview the party because of the back and forth talk between the party and the party's advisors, who at times audibly offer conflicting advice to the party. The campus allows both parties to have two advisors present at the interviews and subsequent hearing (the other party in this matter will have a disability advocate and a personal attorney). Eventually the interview process becomes untenable because of interchanges among the advisors and party; you stop the interview mid-way through.

Use of this material for proprietary reasons, except by the original author(s), is strictly prohibited.

Scenario #3—Questions

- What should be done at this point in the investigation?
- Who can you reach out to for assistance?
- What rules for advisors can be put in place with regards to interviews? What will you do if advisors refuse to cooperate with such rules?

405

Use of this material for proprietary reasons, except by the original author(s), is strictly prohibited.

§ 106.45(b)(5)(iv)

(iv) Provide the parties with the same opportunities to have others present during any grievance proceeding, including the opportunity to be accompanied to any related meeting or proceeding by the advisor of their choice, who may be, but is not required to be, an attorney, and not limit the choice or presence of advisor for either the complainant or respondent in any meeting or grievance proceeding; however, the recipient may establish restrictions regarding the extent to which the advisor may participate in the proceedings, as long as the restrictions apply equally to both parties;

The Department believes that requiring recipients to allow both parties to have an advisor of their own choosing accompany them throughout the Title IX grievance process, and also to participate within limits set by recipients, is important to ensure fairness for all parties.

Id. at 30298 (emphasis added).

Advisors

- · Advisor of party's choice
  - Could be a parent, friend, an attorney, an employee of the college
  - Could even be a witness in the investigation
- Schools cannot require a particular type of advisor, nor can they require an advisor to have a specific type of training
- Schools may provide resources to advisors to better understand the process
- Schools may implement limits for participation by advisors in meetings and rules of decorum for hearings as long as they are applied equally

409

Scenario #4

Complainant has filed and signed a formal complaint alleging sexual misconduct by Respondent. In an interview with you, the Title IX Investigator, the Respondent claims that someone other than Respondent committed the alleged sexual assault against Complainant on the night in question, and that Complainant has deliberately filed a complaint against Respondent to "get even with Respondent." The alleged assault occurred at an off-campus building owned by a recognized student organization during a party where everyone was engaged in heavy alcohol use. Respondent, who is unable to afford an attorney, asks you, the Investigator, to help Respondent determine what evidence would help demonstrate that Respondent is not the actual perpetrator.

Use of this material for proprietary reasons, except by the original author(s), is strictly prohibited.

Scenario #4—Questions

- Who bears the burden of evidence in this situation?
- What type of exculpatory evidence could support Respondent's claims? What type of inculpatory evidence might undermine Respondent's claims?
- In light of "rape shield" protections, how might Complainant be questioned regarding this information in a follow-up interview?
- May you "help" the Respondent? How will you respond to Respondent's request?
- Might you now have actual notice that the Respondent is a Complainant?

§ 106.45(b)(7)

Requires a decision-maker who is not the same person as the Title IX Coordinator or the investigator to reach a determination regarding responsibility by applying the standard of evidence the recipient has designated in the recipient's grievance procedures for use in all formal complaints of sexual harassment (which must be either the preponderance of the evidence standard or the clear and convincing evidence standard)...

Id. at 30054 (emphasis added).

§ 106.45(b)(1)(ii)

(ii) Require an objective evaluation of all relevant evidence including both inculpatory and exculpatory evidence— and provide that credibility determinations may not be based on a person's status as a complainant, respondent, or witness;

Recipient Bears the Burden of Gathering Evidence

[I]t is the recipient's burden to impartially gather evidence and present it so that the decision-maker can determine whether the recipient (not either party) has shown that the weight of the evidence reaches or falls short of the standard of evidence selected by the recipient for making determinations.

Id. at 30292 (emphasis added).

Burden to Gather Inculpatory and Exculpatory Evidence

The Department agrees with commenters that even so-called "he said/she said" cases often involve evidence in addition to the parties' respective narratives, and the § 106.45 grievance process obligates recipients to bear the burden of gathering evidence and to objectively evaluate all relevant evidence, both inculpatory and exculpatory, including the parties' own statements as well as other evidence.
